"When you want to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than the advertising columns of The Bulletin."

The Bulletin

Norwich, Wednesday, Aug. 25, 1909.

VARIOUS MATTERS

It is a banner year for freight shipments.

It is the season of typhoid fever and there are cases in many places.

The peaches are reported to be rotting on the trees out at Durham near Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman of Norwich were in Colchester Sunday attending the funeral of George B. Avery.

Automobilists from Norwich enjoy the run up to Colchester, where they spend a short time and then return to town.

Morton F. Plant and family left Groton Monday for a week's cruise on the yacht Islanda, the objective point being Bar Harbor.

Many Baptists will gather at the Stonington Union Sabbath school annual convention, which is to be held in Stonington today.

The trains and trolleys were crowded Monday with men, women and children returning home from the Willimantic Camp meeting.

The town clerks will soon be busy issuing the hunters' licenses, required by law after Sept. 1. Hunting promises to be good this fall.

Recent registrations at the Pleasant View house from Norwich were Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Leahy, T. J. Leahy, Miss Agnes Leahy, J. S. McManara.

Dr. Hanford will be at his office on Wednesday and Saturday only of this week, regular office hours. Next week will resume his regular office hours.

The Pequot colony at New London is uneasy over a report which indicates that a first class siren is to be installed at the new Southwest ledge light.

The summer artists in Lyme have had a successful season this year, and never before have they spread themselves over so much of the adjoining territory.

Vegetables and fruit in this section of the country are ready for the market, but the quantity shipped into the state is growing less because the local season is here.

The Blindless family association of which T. Palmer Blindless of New London is president, will hold its annual reunion at Richards grove on Friday, August 27.

An automobile party to Norwich Tuesday from Boston included Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Gager, Sr. of Bozrah and Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Fox and son Kenneth of Wethersfield.

Little Fernando Sylvia, who has been spending several weeks at a farm near Norwich, is spending a few days in Stonington as the guest of Charles Davis.—New London Day.

The almanac brings to notice the fact that these are the first days of the open season for hay fever, or "ragweed fever" as it was first called. Lay in an extra stock of handkerchiefs against the golden rod.

The convention of State Regents, Royal Arcanum, will be held at Bridgeport, Sept. 12, and the various councils are now choosing delegates. The sheep roast at Compo June 17 also promises to be well attended.

The country show at the Connecticut fair is going to be a unique thing. There will be a reproduction of a country estate and it will be stocked with the finest collection of fowls of many kinds that can be procured.

Schooner Howard A. Hunt, which has been engaged in the Virginia wood trade, has been purchased by the Gilbert Transportation company and will be taken to the company's yard at Mystic where she will be rebuilt.

The members of the Bill family from far and wide will gather today in the yard for the annual Bill dinner, Senator William I. Allen has completed all arrangements for an occasion that promises to be fully as successful as ever.

The non-magnetic auxiliary brigantine Carnegie, which sailed from New York Saturday, put into New London Monday for repairs to her machinery made necessary by a small accident on the Sound. Her equipment excites much interest in the whaling city.

A new and important change in the coming year's course at one high school is the introduction of the phonograph as the means of teaching languages. This is at Windsor Locks, and is the first trial in this part of the country.

Down at Stonington the gypsy moth scouts, under direction of George H. Hollister, are now on the last lap, in taking the bands from the trees and burning them by the roadside. All signs of the pests and the elm tree beetle are gone.

Many former pupils at the Uncaeville district school will have a reunion at the school next Friday. There are many in New London and Norwich who will attend, being pupils of Lucy E. Allen and Thomas Latham, who taught school there for many years.

Chicken thieves are reported here and there. One farmer heard suspicious noises during the middle of the night, and got up and blazed away with a gun. Nobody was found in the coop and the man returned to his dreams.

People this week are being taken across the Connecticut at Haddam by rowboat, while autos and teams are run out onto a scow and towed over by motorboat. The Chester-Hadley ferryboat was sent to New London Saturday for repairs.

The contracts for the construction of 13,587 linear feet of gravel road in the town of Old Lyme and for 5,840 linear feet of gravel road in East Lyme, continuous sections of the old Boston Post road, were awarded by Commissioner MacDonald to Bryan F. Mahan of Old Lyme.

"The police force in London had a hard time dispersing the suffragettes." "What did they want to call out the police for?" "Because the suffragettes were making trouble." "Why didn't they call out O'Connell?"—Boston Post.

FRACTURED RIGHT FOOT.

Thomas Ahern Met With Accident at New Haven Station.

Thomas Ahern, 27 years old, a gun-maker of Norwich, was taken to the New Haven hospital from the Union depot at 12:15 Sunday night with a right foot badly fractured. Ahern was bound for New York on the train that reaches New Haven at 11:55, and was wishing to obtain something to eat left the train to go into the station. In stepping down from the car he miscalculated the distance and landed heavily on his right foot, which turned over. He was picked up groaning from the pain and hurried to the hospital in the police ambulance. He will be laid up there for the next two weeks.

A CABBAGE REPORT.

Five Cabbage Heads on One Stalk.

Samuel E. Holdridge of Lyndsey exhibited to The Bulletin what one cabbage seed can do under good conditions. He cut an early cabbage from the stalk between June 20th and July 1st, and on Aug. 24th he shows five hard-headed cabbages upon the same stalk which weighed about seven pounds. A half dozen good cabbages from one seed is not a common achievement. Mr. Holdridge has had as many as fourteen little ones as an after crop on some of the standing stumps.

First Connecticut Heavy Artillery.

The fortieth annual reunion of Companies I, B and the band of the Connecticut Heavy artillery will be held in Torrington, Conn., Wednesday, Sept. 15, 1909. The business meeting will be at 12 o'clock noon in the city hall, with dinner after the business meeting. They will have the great pleasure of joining for this reunion the companies and families of the Second Connecticut Heavy artillery, hence it behooves the First to "dress on the occasion."

Home From Waterbury.

General Secretary and Mrs. Frank H. Merrill returned from Waterbury Tuesday to attend the annual Bill library dinner today, where Mrs. Merrill is to sing the musical part of the program, being in charge of Charles D. Geer, who will also be heard in solo work. By the Bar Harbor train tonight, Mr. Merrill will leave for a visit in Nashua, N. H., with relatives of the general secretary.

Power Boat Gone.

The power boat found by boys campers at Scotch Cap Saturday has been removed from its moorings. While the boys were away someone, probably the owner, went to Scotch Cap and took it.

Final Games of Hoque Tourney

Tie for Second Honors Played Off by Clark and Rudd, the Former Winning—Local Tournament is Expected to be Arranged.

The final games in the national hoque tournament for 1909 were played on Tuesday for the second time. The tie for second honors was played off by Clark and Rudd, the former winning. The games were at a climax, owing to the necessity of getting back home, left Tracy Rudd and Edward Clark tied for second honors. As the final game was played at a climax, owing to the necessity of getting back home, left Tracy Rudd and Edward Clark tied for second honors. As the final game was played at a climax, owing to the necessity of getting back home, left Tracy Rudd and Edward Clark tied for second honors.

Tourney for Local Club.

It is expected that a tournament for the members of the local club will now be started. The first game was played on Tuesday for the purpose of stimulating an interest in the game and bettering the courts by more use.

The first game was called shortly before noon, and contrary to the previous efforts to dissolve the tie, Clark was able to beat Rudd. The first game without much trouble. In the afternoon the second game was started, and as the first, Clark defeated Rudd, following his winning streak by taking the third and deciding game. Rudd did not get the chance of the evening before, and both showed the effects of their late play Monday night, although Rudd at that time was invincible as far as Clark was concerned, and the second game was a close contest. The winning of the three games was Tuesday's game, which was played at a climax, owing to the necessity of getting back home, left Tracy Rudd and Edward Clark tied for second honors.

When he left for home, C. C. King of Exeter, N. H., carried with him a set of arches like those used on the local course. He has one of the finest bows in the country at his home, and he is a hard driver of balls, but the local steel arches resist and make the archer's hand sore. He had no trouble in making many home runs on his own grounds, but here the arches bothered and he took home set. The final game of the tournament should be played. Next year he promises to be prepared to make arches at any old angle.

WEDDING.

Kennedy—Ledgard.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, was a most successful one. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Noyes.

Miss Nellie M. Mowen of Pittsfield, Mass., acted as bridesmaid, and Miss A. DeForest of Exeter, N. H., as best man.

Following the wedding a reception was tendered the newly married couple at 15 North Fourth street.

Mr. Kennedy is an experienced and well known newspaper man throughout the New England states, and past president of the Connecticut Editorial association. He is now engaged in special newspaper work in various parts of the United States.

The bride is the daughter of the late H. J. Ledgard, a prominent woolen manufacturer and owner of the celebrated Aldridge mills at Leeds, Eng., and for the past three years has held a responsible position with the J. B. Lippincott Co., publishers of Lippincott's Monthly Magazine, Philadelphia.

Ziegler—Heiman.

In the marriage of Benjamin Ziegler and Miss Helen Heiman, Tuesday evening at the home of the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. S. Ziegler of No. 244 M. Pleasant street, occurred the prettiest Hebrew wedding of the season, the ceremony being performed out of doors under ideal weather conditions, wearing white multi-trimmed with duchess lace, a veil with wreath of forget me nots, and carrying an ivory scepter.

The ceremony was followed by a bounteous supper, served at prettily decorated tables spread in the yard, and during the evening music was furnished by an orchestra composed of four couples of the groom. A merry time ensued, with the reading of telegrams full of congratulations and good wishes from Pittsburg, Boston, New York, North Carolina, Texas, New Hampshire, Philadelphia, West Lynn, Mass. and Brooklyn, N. Y.

Both the young people are graduates of the Mt. Pleasant Street school, have been popular residents of this city for a number of years, and were remembered by their friends with many handsome presents, among which were articles of cut glass, furniture, trunks, jewelry, silver, hie a brace, and about $100 in money. They are to reside in newly furnished apartments in the Park Hotel on West Main street, after a wedding trip to New York and
